

IN HONOR OF
NATIONAL CANCER
SURVIVORS MONTH

I'M A SURVIVOR

By Kim Kirkland
©KMK

Dedicated to
"Sisters"

I'm a Survivor of life, of my own accord
On a path of hope, and dreams, my testimony is my reward
In my travels I've come, across a once unspoken word
Cancer, which knows no race, or color, no one deserves

I can't say it's been easy, I've been put to the test
And I haven't given up...See I'm doing my best
I've come across many paths, on lifes' road every day
Some still here, some now gone, but I'm here to stay

I'm a SURVIVOR, let the truth be told
In the face of it all, I do dare to be bold!
My banner is faith, and my strengths from above
I'll fight for it all, and when I am done...

You'll say, there goes that Survivor, because my love will remain
Flowing from generations to come, again and again,
You're my Sisters, and we've been through it all,
We've met the challenge head on, so let our stories be told

We are all SURVIVORS, and I'm here to stay
In mind, body, or spirit, Forever, and Always....

A NATIONAL AFRICAN AMERICAN BREAST CANCER
SURVIVORSHIP ORGANIZATION

sistersnetworkinc.org
866-781-1808
infonet@sistersnetworkinc.org

JOIN OUR MOVEMENT